

click image to enlarge

(2,295 x 1,841 pixels - 926 KB)

by Sgt. Jeremiah Johnson

December 2, 2004

Soldiers from Company C, 1st Battalion, 5th Infantry Regiment, 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division, prepare to enter a home in Mosul, Iraq, where a vandal who looted an Iraqi National Guard facility is suspected of hiding. This photo appeared on www.army.mil.

Pfc. Matt Baugh and Pvt. Josh Murray, both with 1st Battalion, 5th Infantry Regiment, 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division, from Fort Lewis, Wash., search vehicle occupants at a traffic control point near Hammam Al Alil, Iraq, Nov. 27, 2004. DoD photo by Spc. John S. Gurtler, U.S. Army. (Released)

News Photo Home

◀ BACK NEXT ▶

U.S. Army soldiers man a traffic control point outside the Fallujah suburb of Al Kharma, Iraq, on Nov. 8, 2004. The troops at the control point are controlling the flow of people trying to leave, and screening to prevent militant escape. The soldiers are assigned to Bravo Company, 1st Battalion, 5th Infantry Regiment, Stryker Brigade. DoD photo by Senior Airman Christopher A. Marasky, U.S. Air Force. (Released)